1. Contrary to previous rumors, it has been definitely reported that Polish Communists in Montevideo are not contemplating opening a consulate there in the near future. Currently, all Polish citizens residing in Uruguay who wish to return to Poland must be interviewed by representatives of the Comité Democrático Polaco, a Polish Communist front organization in Montevideo.
2. Polish persons in Uruguay who wish to travel on Communist-Polish passports, must appear in person before members of the Comité. After a thorough interview, all documents submitted are then relayed to Buenos Aires for further study where they may be delayed for one to two months. According to source, Stanislaw Wiskul, the Uruguayan representative of the Polish commercial firm Hecunda and reportedly the highest authority of the Polish government in Uruguay, has been able occasionally to secure all necessary Polish Communist travel documents directly from Buenos Aires with little or no delay.
3. Non-Communist Poles in Uruguay who wish to travel to countries other than Poland on non-Communist passports, must send all of their documents to their government representatives in Buenos Aires.
4. Source said that Stanislaw Wiskul, an attorney of the defunct London Polish Legation in Buenos Aires, is currently acting as a Montevideo representative for the free Polish authorities in Buenos Aires.
